Summer Teacher Workshop

June 24 to June 28, 2024

a STEAM focus on experiential and collaborative learning

Improve and reinvigorate your practice through authentic and engaging experiences.

Join us this summer to gather with fellow educators, reflect, and recharge in a supportive, fun, and inspiring setting. In small groups, collaborate with fellow educators to enhance your existing classroom practice through a project-based STEAM lens. Participants will explore the New Haven area's rich resources alongside mentors from a variety of disciplines.

WHEN: Mon., June 24 – Fri., June 28, 2024
9 a.m. to approximately 3 p.m.

WHERE: Hopkins School · New Haven, Conn.

WHO: Connecticut school teachers, pre-K to grade 6 (public, parochial, and independent)

WHAT: This free workshop brings teachers together for a week of collaboration, inquiry, and inspiration. Through integrated STEAM-based activities, we explore local resources and teaching practices applicable in any school environment.

“By far the most effective workshop I have ever been to as an educator! I loved every minute of it!”

“I feel like I can teach anything in my classroom with more confidence!”
